Call for Abstracts

Abstract Deadline: MARCH 20TH

All UTMB students, postdoctoral fellows, medical residents, and faculty are encouraged to share their public health related research projects and experiences by participating in the 2017 National Public Health Week poster session and competition.

Purpose

The purpose of the poster session is to identify and recognize individuals and groups who are addressing public health issues by participating in a project with a public health component.

Cash Awards

The competition for cash awards is open to UTMB students, medical residents, and postdoctoral fellows. Prizes will be awarded based on poster content, impact to public health, and response to questions.

Application & Abstract Submission

Please use the link below to complete the application and upload a copy of your abstract. You should not submit the application without the abstract.

Your abstract should be no more than 350 words, and be public health related. This deadline is March 20th.

Poster Presentation

Posters must fit a 4' X 6' free standing display board and be mounted with thumbtacks. Posters will be set up between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m.
